

Volunteer Spotlight:
Matthew Burke
 Senior Consultant, Hylaine

Joining the ranks of Apparo volunteers and donors in 2021, Matthew has already provided direct support to three nonprofits.

A Better World: Helped them replace their manual, paper-based fundraising and program management processes, in order to save valuable time that will be put to work towards supporting children in West Charlotte to move towards more promising futures.

Charlotte Rescue Mission: Helped them select new systems to track donor data & financials, leaving them well positioned for the fundraising boost needed to open their new building which will turn around 100 additional lives facing addiction.

Hope House Foundation: Helped them select a new donor management system, which will help deliver additional funds to help build more housing for women facing homelessness.

Apparo has re-awakened the volunteer in me and afforded me to take a step back, see a broader perspective and understand that there is a lot of need out there and that I can help. Being a part of Apparo's positive impact on the community is a great thing and helping a nonprofit figure out how to do their best and have the biggest impact is one of the most important things we can do. I'm grateful to Apparo and Hylaine for the opportunity to be a small part of what nonprofits are doing to serve families and students. -- Matthew Burke

It was really great to have you there to support us, be a voice for us, and to ask the questions we didn't know needed to be answered. I felt very supported in this process both by our volunteer, Matt Burke, and the Apparo team. It's going to make a big difference for us.". Specifically, Debbie O'Handley, Executive Director of Hope House, shares that thanks to Apparo & Matt's support, more women and their children facing homelessness will have access to shelter and resources to be self-sustaining in the future.
