- Spring 2021: Training of LIFESPAN team on Excel use
- Ongoing: IT Coaching with LIFESPAN team

CapTech values community service and it's something I have prioritized throughout my life...with Apparo I feel like I can add even more value by taking my workplace skills and applying them to nonprofits...and it helps me grow in my skills as speaker and trainer. It's an easy and natural way for me to add a lot of value and make a big impact. Jennifer (Ray, Apparo Program Manager) does all the hard work to make it easy for me. I just have to show up and get to the fun with the nonprofits, who are so appreciative. Apparo adds so much value by just connecting the right people. I really appreciate what they do as an organization."

- Jake Rue

I was surprised by how enthusiastic and grateful the team was - they are hooked on Jake! Our team has a wide range of abilities and he has been able to meet everyone where they are in terms of skill level. He would slow down, repeat and was very kind, humble and grateful. Jake was the right person for the job! He eliminated the fear factor and upped people's interest in learning how to use Excel. Because of Jake, they want to learn more, they want to get better and that was my goal." - Alisha Tatum, Sr. Executive Director LIFESPAN
